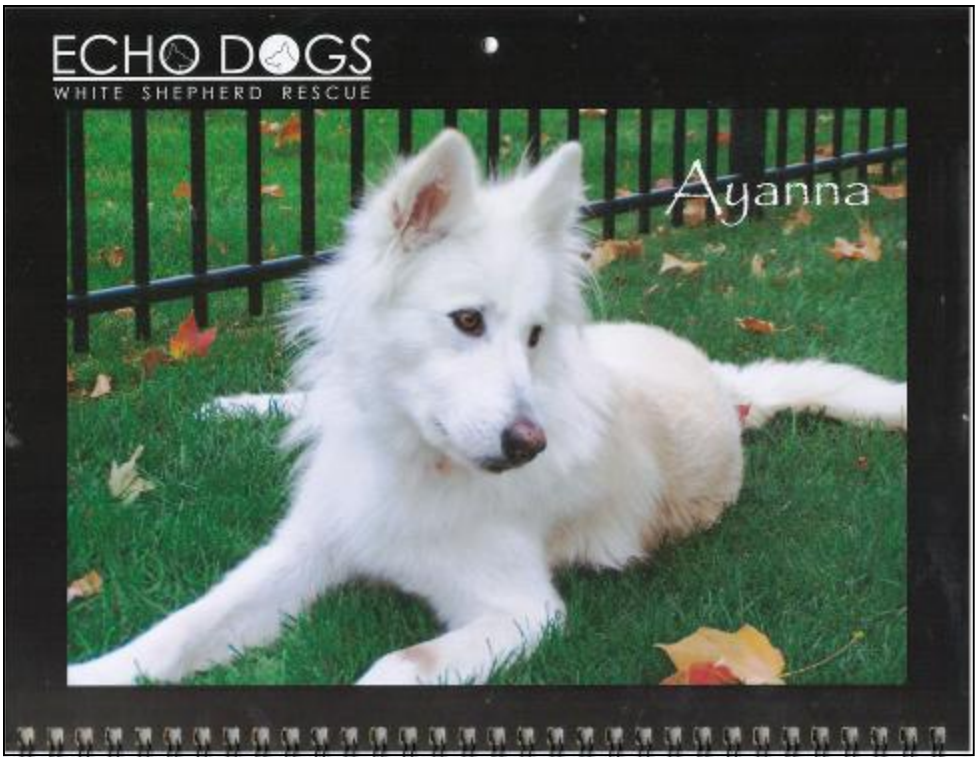
Mayor DeReamer

City Sightings & Sidelines
January 2011

City of Greenfield
Page 1

Volume IV, Issue I
January 2011

White—But Not More Snow



Looking for something to warm your heart on a cold January day? Try snuggling next to Ayanna. This is our (Animal Management's) Ayanna Uno (Innocent One) that we saved and sent to Echo White Shepherd Rescue. She was so awesome that they put her on their October 2011 Calendar. We couldn't be happier that things have turned out so well for this beautiful dog.

Ayanna is now in her new home in Maine! She has two kids and a beach house! This is an amazing transition from a Greenfield shelter to an ocean-side haven. We almost lost her several times, as she came in with the worse bruising ever seen by a vet, full of holes and infections, whip worms, kennel cough, and heartworm positive. Ayanna was very much loved and a house favorite with a gentle soul we will never come across again. It is such a pleasure to share her new fame as a "poster pet."

Ayanna is just one of the many success stories of Greenfield/Hancock Animal Management and its work with rescue shelters and regular adoptions. Now that the holidays are past, come see us for a great family pet to make every day warm and furry!

Article and photo courtesy of:
Tiana Gerald, GHAM Kennel Manager

Inside this issue:

White-But Not More Snow	1
What's Cooking?	2
Birthday Club	3
Thoughts to Remember	3
Greenfield Website	3
Kudos & Congrats	4
40,000 Pounds	5
Meetings & Events	6
Sympathy	6
This 'n That	7-9
News, Notices	10-11
Business Briefs	12-14
Years of Service	15
Character First Trait	16
Planters Brighten Corners	17
Planter Competition	18
Spotlight on:
Dakota Atkison	19
Lance McKee	20
Enjoy the Wintertime	21
Healthy Advantage	22
Teamwork on the Roads	23
Festival Memories	24
Newsworthy Notes	25-27

Ring out the old, ring in the new,
Ring, happy bells, across the snow:
The year is going, let him go;
Ring out the false, ring in the true.
Alfred, Lord Tennyson, 1850